MESSAGE FROM DIRECTOR

Dear Students,

I hope you are relaxing and spending time in the company of your loved ones as you read this. While the conventional story of Thanksgiving is factually inaccurate, what it has come to mean-spending time with friends and family and being thankful for the gifts we have-is something to celebrate. I have been Director of the School of Social Work just shy of five months. This week has given me time to reflect upon how grateful I am to be in community with such an amazing group of faculty, staff, and students in a beautiful natural environment within a state dedicated to social work and its values of service, integrity, dignity and worth of the person, importance of human relationships, and social justice. I hope you will take some time to appreciate all that is positive and abundant within your own surroundings and acknowledge all the good you are doing and contributing to the world around you.
